Aubagne, France – September, 7th, 2016 – NEOTION, a technology leader specialised in delivering secure devices for the Digital Tv industry, has selected Climax Technology, a leading supplier of wireless home automation systems, to become a partner for its Neohome wireless accessories.

The NEOTION and Climax partnership combines the Climax expertise in telecommunications and radio frequency (RF) technologies and NEOTION's home automation developments to provide a global seamless smart home solution.

The hundreds of "Connected Devices" which have been deployed in the market by emerging manufacturers are creating fragmented and non-integrated solutions, which often become a barrier for end-users. We are confident in a long-term partnership with Climax to jointly cope with future technology challenges of the new smart home millennium, relying on Climax products as a label of quality and innovation for our customers."* said Nicolas STEFANELLI, Neohome Marketing Manager at NEOTION.
